JENNIFER FALL JUNG

Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer

As our EVP and chief financial officer, Jennifer Fall Jung brings more than 25 years of corporate finance and investor-focused experience to her role at The Duckhorn Portfolio. A deeply talented finance executive with a proven track record of devising and leading successful strategic efforts at iconic consumer product companies, Jennifer manages an acclaimed in-house team to oversee all areas of finance and accounting, public and investor relations, forecasting and fiscal planning. Jennifer also partners with the chief strategy officer on acquisitions and is responsible for corporate capital structure, tax strategy, reporting and analysis, accounting, and IT. Continually striving for excellence in meeting our investors' needs and driving shareholder value, Jennifer's financial acumen, coupled with her experience in operations and her deep understanding of how to build brand equity, make her an invaluable member of our executive leadership team.

Jennifer holds a Bachelor of Science in business administration with a specialization in finance and a Master of Business Administration with a specialization in international business from San Diego State University. She began her career at Andersen Consulting, but spent the majority of her career at Gap Inc., where she held several key positions over the course of more than two decades, including SVP of investor relations and corporate finance as well as CFO and SVP of Global Old Navy and Gap North America. During her tenure, Jennifer successfully led global expansion for both the Gap and Old Navy Brands, launching Old Navy Mexico in 2015. She also led multiple technology projects across the company, with a focus on optimizing inventory levels and profitability while simplifying workstreams. Following her time at The Gap, Jennifer spent four years as the chief financial officer at Funko, Inc., a pop culture, entertainment and consumer goods company, where she was responsible for all areas of finance and accounting, investor relations, real estate, facilities, and communications.

“The Duckhorn Portfolio is not only an iconic family of brands, but it is unique in its leading position as a public and pure-play luxury wine company of scale,” said Jennifer. “As we continue to evolve and innovate, this is an incredibly exciting time for our company. Working alongside our talented executive leadership team, my role is to provide the fiscal strategy and planning to reach new heights of excellence in our category.”

In addition to her role at The Duckhorn Portfolio, Jennifer is a strong advocate for conservation, and is the former executive vice chairperson and finance committee chairperson for the Conservation Society of California. She is also an advisory board member of the Fowler College of Business at San Diego State University.
